DESCRIPTION

It bears the name of the most typical white variety in the north of the island of La Palma. In Garafía, the Albilló variety dominates with the Listán variety over the other white varieties. Albilló from El Níspero has been highly rated in different tastings and, as such, is well placed in prestigious publications and oenological guides.

Albilló blanco monovarietal wine is a wine of great transparency dominated by an intense yellow with greenish touches due to light refraction.

In the aroma, fruity and citric details of great intensity predominate in the first impression.

Fruity acidity that gives it a distinctive point over other whites.
